

SUPPORT PAYDAY LENDING REFORM

Proposed Amendments to HB 1351

1. The amendments are being offered today in response to the concerns raised by the lenders and legislators while still providing real reform for the borrowers. While the payday lenders may object to these amendments, we are trying to find a balance between the interests of the borrowers and the lenders.
2. These amendments provide the lenders with a fee for processing the borrower's first loan in a year and raise the interest rate allowed to be charged on all the other loans to 45% which is the current criminal usury rate. The first loan takes the most time and expense to set up. Rollover and refinanced loans require limited additional processing.
3. As the attached chart indicates, the increased interest rate and origination fee provides the industry with twice as much revenue per loan over the first four loans than they would have received under HB 1351 as originally introduced. On a $500 loan over six weeks, the lenders will receive $84.52 compared to $27.60 under the original bill. Plus, $58.63 of this will be paid up front on the first loan.
4. For the average loan, payday lenders will receive almost twice as much revenue on a $500 loan under the amendments than under HB 1351 as originally introduced. According to the AG's Demographic report, payday loans were paid off over 20 weeks on average. Under the amendments payday lenders will receive $136.30 compared to $69 under HB 1351 as introduced. While providing more revenue to the payday lenders the amendments represent a savings of $614 for borrowers over what they would pay under current law.
