(Note: This summary applies to this bill as introduced and does not necessarily reflect any amendments that may be subsequently adopted.)

bill directs the department of education (department) to contract for a study to evaluate the feasibility, design, and impact of a system to determine pupil enrollment based on the average number of days that each pupil is enrolled in school during the school year (average daily membership) rather than based on a single count date; except that the department shall contract for the study only if:

- ! The state receives, and makes available to the department, federal race to the top fund moneys;
- ! The department is able to secure federal funding from another source in an amount necessary to cover the costs of the study; or
- ! The department receives gifts, grants, or donations in an amount necessary to cover the costs of the study.

The bill requires the department to incorporate any previous studies or information gathered regarding average daily membership into the study, and the staff of the school finance unit of the department is required to oversee the study.

When the department receives the necessary funding to contract for the study, the department is required to notify the general assembly. The bill directs the department to submit a report to the general assembly within 2 years after the time that the department notifies the general assembly that it has received sufficient funding to conduct the study.

The bill prohibits the use of state moneys for the purposes of conducting the average daily membership study. In addition, the bill authorizes the department to receive gifts, grants, and donations to use in conducting the study and creates the average daily membership study fund in the state treasury. The bill specifies that any gifts, grants, or donations received for the study shall be deposited into the fund.
