Joint Budget Committee. The natural resource damage recovery fund (fund) consists of moneys recovered through litigation by the state acting as the trustee of natural resources pursuant to the federal "Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act of 1980". moneys in the fund are subject to annual appropriation. Annual interest earned on the moneys in the fund related to a specific litigation settlement is used to repay loans from the hazardous substance response fund and the general fund related to the litigation. This repayment system is repealed on July 1, 2017.

The bill authorizes the department of public health and environment to expend the custodial moneys in the fund without further appropriation for the existing purposes. It also permits the department to accept moneys from public or private sources for the purpose of repaying the loans to the natural resource damage recovery fund or the general fund. These payments will reduce the amount of interest from the fund that is required to be transferred to the hazardous substance response fund and the general fund. In addition, the repeal of the repayment system is delayed until July 1, 2020.
