SIDE-BY-SIDE COMPARISON OF MAJOR HEALTH CARE REFORM PROPOSALS

This side-by-side compares the leading comprehensive reform proposals across a number of key characteristics and plan components. Included in this side-by-side are proposals for moving toward universal coverage that have been put forward by the President and Members of Congress. In an effort to capture the most important proposals, we have included those that have been formally introduced as legislation as well as those that have been offered as principles or in White Paper form. This side-by-side will be regularly updated to reflect changes in the proposals and to incorporate major new proposals as they are announced. The House Tri-Committee summary incorporates the major amendments to the legislation adopted by the three committees of jurisdiction during their mark-ups of the bill. These amendments are identified using an abbreviation for the House panel that approved it — "E&C" for the Committee on Energy and Commerce; "E&L" for the Committee on Education and Labor; and "W&M" for the Committee on Ways and Means.

Overall approach to expanding access to coverage	The Senate Finance Committee released a series of papers laying out options for health reform. While not a formal proposal, these papers offer a framework for achieving health reform goals and present the range of options the Committee will consider as it works to draft health reform legislation. Require all individuals to have health insurance. Create a Health Insurance Exchange through which individuals and small businesses can purchase health coverage, with subsidies available to individuals/families with incomes up to 400% of the federal poverty level. Impose new regulations on the non-group and small group insurance markets. Expand Medicaid and CHIP and offer a temporary Medicare buy-in for the pre-Medicare population.	Require individuals to have health insurance. Create state-based American Health Benefit Gateways through which individuals and small businesses can purchase health coverage, with subsidies available to individuals/families with incomes up to 400% of the federal poverty level (or $73,240 for a family of three in 2009). Require employers to provide coverage to their employees or pay an annual fee, with exceptions for small employers, and provide certain small employers a credit to offset the costs of providing coverage. Impose new regulations on the individual and small group insurance markets. Expand Medicaid to all individuals with incomes up to 150% of the federal poverty level.	Require all individuals to have health insurance.
