Authorizes the director of the division to investigate complaints and issue orders upon a finding that an employer has misclassified employees. Authorizes the director to collect back taxes and interest from an employer who misclassified employees and to impose additional fines and penalties when the director finds that the employer, with reckless disregard, misclassified employees.

Requires the executive director of the department to conduct a statewide study to determine the scope of the problem of employee misclassification, including whether the problem is widespread, whether particular industries are more inclined to engage in the practice, estimates of state revenues lost or not collected due to employee misclassifications, and whether a uniform definition of "employment relationship" is needed. Requires the executive director to submit a report to specified committees of the general assembly regarding the statewide study and the operations of the office in investigating complaints.
