Due to my rights under the U.S. Constitution, I will not waive my rights to have an Attorney and my Parent(s) or Guardian present when a law enforcement officer or school official requests an interrogation of any incident that takes place at school, at home or any other location, public or private.

Recent arrests and incarceration of early and pre-teen children in Colorado resulting from zero tolerance policies, invasive school surveys, and State and Federal Regulations regarding 'threat assessment' policies in schools, both public and private, have combined to indicate the need for students to carry the card pictured here to demonstrate their constitutional rights and freedoms.

The card, a brainchild of Denver talk radio host Peter Boyles, has been formatted by legal professionals to insure the validity of the statement contained therein.

HB 11-1254, Colorado's proposed Anti-bullying Bill as written tramples on student's rights to privacy as well as parental rights.

Laws of this nature will necessitate children having to carry the above mentioned card with them.
