SENATE
Amended 2nd Reading
March 8, 2012

The procedure was amended in 2008 to allow for electronic notification to legislators regarding such reports and to authorize legislators to request the delivery of a hard copy of any report.

The default in the future will be for the reporting entity to merely file one electronic copy of the report with the joint legislative library, which filing will also include the internet address (URL) of the report, if the report is directly accessible via the internet; and 4 hard copies with the state librarian for the state publications depository and distribution center. If the reporting entity cannot provide an electronic copy of the report, then it must deliver 6 hard copies to the joint legislative library. The joint legislative library thereafter will deliver the electronic or hard-copy report to the legislators, legislative committees, or legislative staff who are to receive it.
