Joint Budget Committee. Under current law, 4% of the amount appropriated for expenditure from the general fund in a fiscal year must be retained in the fund at the end of the fiscal year as a reserve. But once a personal income trigger occurs, which means that personal income grows by 5% from one calendar year to the next, the amount of the required general fund reserve increases by a one-half percent in each of the following 5 fiscal years.

Shading denotes HOUSE amendment. Double underlining denotes SENATE amendment.

The bill changes the general fund reserve requirement by:

- ! Increasing the reserve to 5% of general fund appropriations for the fiscal years 2012-13 and 2013-14;
- ! Establishing the reserve as 5% of general fund appropriations for all subsequent years until the percentage increases after the personal income trigger occurs;
- ! Eliminating the first 2 fiscal years of reserve increases, because the reserve will already be 5% of general fund appropriations; and
- ! Delaying the remaining 3 fiscal years of one-half percent reserve increases until the third fiscal year that begins after the personal income trigger occurs so that the timing of these increases does not change from existing law.
