schools today (BEST) program by:

- Allowing the committee to review and approve or, if the committee concludes that the public school capital construction assistance board (board) misinterpreted the results of the BEST prioritization assessment or misapplied BEST prioritization criteria, disapprove a revised prioritized list of projects recommended by the board and the state board of education for BEST funding that involves lease-purchase agreements. If the committee disapproves the list, the board may resubmit the list, with modifications or additional information, or both, that address the committee's concerns, and the committee may approve or, if the committee again concludes that the board misinterpreted the results of the BEST prioritization assessment or misapplied BEST prioritization criteria, disapprove the resubmitted list.
- ! Requiring the board, which currently reports annually to the education and finance committees of both houses of the general assembly, to also report annually to the capital development committee and to include in its reporting, to the extent feasible, an estimate of the amount of BEST revenues for the current and next fiscal year and BEST funding to be provided during the next fiscal year.

The bill also requires the board, in determining the amount of financial assistance that it provides and in so doing managing the balance of the public school capital construction assistance fund (assistance fund), to ensure that, effective June 30, 2013, and effective each June 30 thereafter, the balance of the assistance fund is at least equal to the total amount of payments to be made by the state, less the amount of any school district matching moneys and federal moneys to be received for the purpose of making the payments, during the next fiscal year under the terms of any BEST lease-purchase agreements.
