- protection agency's WaterSense program;
- ! Certified by such body or laboratory as meeting the performance and efficiency requirements of the program; and
- ! Authorized by the program to use its label.

Current law requires water-efficient indoor plumbing fixtures in only three contexts:

- ! Builders of new single-family detached residences must offer the buyers toilets, faucets, and showerheads that meet the current standards of the WaterSense program;
- ! Tank-type water closets and flushometer toilets in new state buildings must meet certain standards that are either less stringent than or as stringent as the current WaterSense standards; and
- ! New construction and renovation of residential structures and office, commercial, or industrial buildings must meet standards that are less stringent than the current WaterSense standards.

Section 1 of the bill prohibits the sale of lavatory faucets, shower heads, flushing urinals, tank-type toilets, and tank-type water closets on and after September 1, 2016, unless they are a watersense-listed plumbing fixture. Sections 2 through 5 amend or repeal conflicting portions of current law.

1 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

2 SECTION 1. In Colorado Revised Statutes, add article 7.5 to title

12	respective jurisdiction, to the qualified electors of any such political
13	subdivision, and a majority of such THE qualified electors do not approve
14	such THE applicable provision and its requirements.
15	SECTION 5. In Colorado Revised Statutes, repeal article 1.3 of
16	title 9 as follows:
17	9-1.3-101. Legislative declaration. The general assembly finds
18	and declares that conservation of potable water by the utilization of
19	low-flow plumbing fittings and fixtures in newly constructed and
20	renovated residential structures and facilities for human use within office,
21	commercial, and industrial buildings is in the best interests of the people
22	of the state of Colorado and that, to such end, the provisions of this article
23	are hereby enacted.
24	9-1.3-102. Control standards - definitions - permits. (1) Except
25	as specifically provided under section 9-1.3-104, on and after January 1,
26	1990, no construction or renovation of residential structures or of
27	facilities for human use within office, commercial, or industrial buildings

-5- 103

shall be commenced within the state of Colorado which does not comply with the provisions of this article. The provisions of this article shall not apply to any structures or facilities which are served by a septic system.

(2) For the purposes of this article:

(a) "Manufactured housing" means housing which is in part or entirely manufactured in a factory. This type of housing is built in single or multiple sections on a chassis which enables it to be transported to its occupancy site or is built in single or multiple sections for assembly at the site, and includes modular homes and panelized homes.

(b) "Renovation" includes any addition, replacement, or alteration to an existing residential structure or to a facility for human use within an office, commercial, or industrial building, where plumbing fixtures and fittings are installed as part of the renovation. Limited renovation may not be the basis for a comprehensive or broader change in plumbing fixtures.

(c) "Residential structures" includes, but is not limited to, one- and two-family residences, townhouses, condominiums, apartment buildings, hotels and motels, manufactured housing, and mobile homes defined as any wheeled vehicle, exceeding either eight feet in width or thirty-two feet in length, excluding towing gear and bumpers, without motive power, which is designed and commonly used for occupancy by persons for residential purposes, in either temporary or permanent locations, and which may be drawn over the public highways by a motor vehicle.

(3) No building permit shall be issued on and after January 1, 1990, for the construction or renovation of a residential structure or a facility for human use within an office, commercial, or industrial structure by the local governmental entity with building permit authority unless the fittings and fixtures installed during such construction or renovation

1 conform to the specifications provided in subsection (4) of this section. 2 (4) The requisite fixtures and fittings for such construction and 3 renovation shall be: 4 (a) Except in the case of flushometer valves, tank-type water 5 closets which flush with a maximum of three and one-half gallons of 6 water: 7 (b) Shower heads for bathing which have a maximum flow 8 capacity of three gallons per minute at eighty pounds per square inch; and 9 (c) Lavatory faucets and sink faucets which have a maximum flow 10 capacity of two and one-half gallons per minute at eighty pounds per 11 square inch. 12 9-1.3-103. Certification of compliance. For facilities for human 13 use within office, commercial, and industrial structures, the plumbing 14 contractor or party responsible for the installation of said water flow 15 control fixtures and fittings shall certify to the inspecting governmental 16 entity that the fixtures and fittings conform with the volume and ratio of 17 water flow to gallons per minute stipulated by section 9-1.3-102 (4). In 18 lieu of such certification, the results of tests performed by an approved 19 independent testing laboratory or the manufacturer, using established 20 principles of mechanics, shall be acceptable. 21 9-1.3-104. Waiver of requirements. The chief building official 22 of the administrative authority shall waive compliance with the 23 requirements of this article upon satisfactory demonstration by a 24 petitioner or the local administrative authority upon its own motion that 25 the water conservation requirements specified in this article are 26 detrimental to the public health or safety. Such waiver shall also be granted if the administrative authority determines that the requisite fixtures and fittings would cause a sewer hydraulic gradient insufficient to handle reduced water flows.

27

9-1.3-105. State-funded construction - best available water-conserving devices. On or after January 1, 1990, any state agency or local governmental entity which commences construction or renovation where plumbing fixtures and fittings are installed as part of the renovation of any building or other structure which is funded wholly or in part with state or federal moneys shall utilize the best available approved devices for the purpose of conserving water in the building being constructed.

SECTION 6. Act subject to petition - effective date - applicability. (1) Sections 2 through 5 of this act take effect September 1, 2016, and the remainder of this act takes effect at 12:01 a.m. on the day following the expiration of the ninety-day period after final adjournment of the general assembly (August 6, 2014, if adjournment sine die is on May 7, 2014); except that, if a referendum petition is filed pursuant to section 1 (3) of article V of the state constitution against this act or an item, section, or part of this act within such period, then the act, item, section, or part will not take effect unless approved by the people at the general election to be held in November 2014 and, in such case, will take effect on the date of the official declaration of the vote thereon by the governor; except that sections 2 through 5 take effect September 1, 2016.

(2) This act applies to lavatory faucets, shower heads, tank type toilets, and flushing urinals sold on or after September 1, 2016.
