10 Representative Duran moved that the following remarks of Speaker 11 Hullinghorst and Minority Leader DelGrosso be printed in the House 12 Journal. There being no objection the remarks were printed.

15 Speaker Hullinghorst addressed the members of the House of 16 Representatives:

17
18 Members, guests, fellow Coloradans -- good morning, and welcome to the first day of 19 the first regular session of the Seventieth Colorado General Assembly.

20 It is one of the greatest honors and privileges of my life to stand before you as your 21 speaker.

22 You have placed a heavy responsibility on my shoulders, and I promise to use my 23 office to guide the House of Representatives in the direction of building a Colorado 24 that provides real economic and personal security to all of the people of Colorado, not 25 just the wealthy or well-connected.

26 We have many distinguished guests with us this morning. Please hold your applause 27 while I introduce each group.

28 Please join me in welcoming former Governor Richard Lamm.

29 We have five former speakers -- Ruben Valdez, Doug Dean, Frank McNulty, Mark 30 Ferrandino and the first woman speaker, Lola Spradley.

31 Former majority leaders Alice Madden and Paul Weissmann, and former minority 32 leader Sal Pace.

33 Former representatives Mike Cerbo, Dennis Gallagher -- now Denver city auditor --, 34 Dan Grossman, Claire Levy, Karen Middleton and Todd Saliman.

35 The county commissioners of Boulder County -- former representative Deb Gardner, 36 Cindy Domenico and Elise Jones.

37 I am blessed with many other good friends who are here today in the gallery and on 38 the floor. I want to thank you all for your support and for being here with me today.

39 But of all these honored guests, there are three for whom I am most grateful:

40 Our daughter, Lara Lee, who's here with her husband, Paul Hammer. A mother 41 cannot have a more devoted daughter. Lara volunteered as my aide during my early 42 years in the legislature and continues to help me manage my life.

43 Paul, whom I regard as fully my son, has been a great source of support. Thank you.

44 And finally -- and most of all -- my dear husband, Robert, who has remained a constant 45 source of love and counsel for what will be, this August, 50 years of marriage.

46 I extend cordial greetings to each and every one of my colleagues in this chamber. And 47 to our wonderful staff, without whom we could not function. Thank you for your 48 support and help.

49 We all have a lot of work to do.

50 Majority Leader Duran and Minority Leader DelGrosso, congratulations on being 51 selected to lead your caucuses. I am confident that your considerable experience and 52 skills will serve this body well. And I will ask you to use all your powers of 53 persuasion to forge bipartisan policy that will move our state forward.

54 To you who are returning members, welcome back. And I give a hearty welcome to 55 our many new members. Nearly one in three of us has taken the oath of office for the 56 first time today.

1 Thank you for your willingness to endure the rigors of the campaign so you can spend 2 long hours away from your families performing this critical public service.
3 Your financial adviser may think you're crazy, but your dedication and service to our 4 state are an inspiration to all. It can't be calculated in dollars, but this job is worth it.
5 In this General Assembly, we have what's called a split legislature, with Democrats 6 holding the majority in the House and Republicans holding the majority in the Senate.
7 There are those who say a split legislature will place many challenges in our path.
8 I prefer to regard these as opportunities to work together for all of our constituents.
9 We have the opportunity to work across the aisle in the House, with our friends in the 10 Senate, and with Governor Hickenlooper to develop bipartisan legislation that will 11 make Colorado stronger.
12 I see my job as helping to coordinate our efforts -- to channel our energy -- to bring 13 forward the best ideas from wherever they come -- and turn them into public policy 14 that helps all Coloradans.
15 We all want every Coloradan to have a fair shot at the American Dream.
16 Members, as we renew our work to move Colorado forward, I want to call to your 17 attention the splendid renovations to our surroundings.
18 Since we last met, we've completed the refurbishing of our gold dome and reopened 19 it to visitors.
20 This chamber has also undergone a marvelous restoration.
21 The shutters have been removed from these windows, allowing Colorado's natural 22 light to help us find the path forward.
23 There are sunshine laws, and there is plain old sunshine. Both are plentiful in 24 Colorado -- and I like it that way.
25 You may have noticed that we have also removed the oil painting that used to hang 26 behind me and, once again, placed a clock over the podium. This will remind us that, 27 when it comes to delivering legislation to move our state forward, time is of the 28 essence.
29 I thank all the contractors and state employees whose painstaking work has produced 30 such beautiful results. I also thank Speaker McNulty, who got this whole project 31 started over a broken radiator, and Speaker Ferrandino, who made sure the project 32 stayed on track.
33 And, of course, to our chief clerk, Marilyn Eddins, who has spent countless hours 34 watching over the restoration, and will spend countless hours more until it is complete, 35 please join me in offering our very special thanks.
36 Members, I know you will join me in honoring the elegance of our surroundings and 37 the importance of our duties by upholding a high standard of decorum throughout this 38 legislative session.
39 Chief Clerk Eddins assures me that the removal of the acoustic tiles that obscured 40 these beautifully restored walls will not make this chamber any noisier. But we all 41 know we can be a fairly rowdy bunch at times.
42 I love it, because interaction and debate among legislators are essential ingredients of 43 our republican form of government.
44 But when the side conversations threaten to drown out those at the microphone, I will 45 not hesitate to use the biggest noisemaker in this room -- my gavel.
46 The work we do here for the people of Colorado is so important it deserves our 47 undivided attention.
48 Let me emphasize -- we are here to serve the people. Our new members will find that 49 we are often besieged by lobbyists. Their advocacy plays a valuable role here. But we 50 must never forget whom we really serve -- the people of the state of Colorado.
51 We invoke "the people of Colorado" all the time in the Capitol, but the phrase can be 52 fairly abstract. I want to take a minute to look at who "the people" of this state really 53 are.
54 The median Colorado household with children includes two adults and two kids, living 55 on $59,000 a year. Adults in the household have a high school diploma and an average 56 of two years of college education.

1 These families – our families – would like to be able to save enough to help put our 2 kids through college and be secure in our retirement. But our housing costs eat up a 3 third of our take-home pay. Sometimes we struggle to pay the mortgage or the car 4 loan. When the car breaks down, or the hot water heater goes out, it’s a budget crisis.
5 Heaven forbid that one of the wage-earners suffers a disabling injury or a long-term 6 illness, or that such a misfortune strikes a child, forcing a parent to make the agonizing 7 choice between staying on the job to provide needed income, or staying at home to 8 provide needed care.

9 Our middle-class Colorado families are standing uncomfortably close to the edge of 10 a cliff, only one emergency away from sliding right back to where we were in the 11 depths of the Great Recession.

12 Whether it’s the teacher from Lakewood, the farmer from Brush, the small business 13 owner on Main Street in Grand Junction or the single mom working two minimum-14 wage jobs -- when we talk about serving “the people of Colorado,” these are the 15 people we must have in mind.

16 We are Colorado’s middle class and those who strive to join it, including thousands 17 who were in the middle class until the Great Recession knocked them over the cliff, 18 and who are now struggling to climb back up.

19 “The people” are not an abstraction to me.

20 When I was a child, my mother would tell me how, during the Great Depression, she 21 survived on catfish caught by my grandmother while my grandfather, a bricklayer, was 22 out looking for work.

23 It was catfish and cornbread, day after day.

24 When I was growing up, Mom never, ever, ate fish or served it in our home.

25 Her family lost their home, which my grandfather helped build. My father’s family 26 lost their farm.

27 I have been to the edge of the cliff myself. I will never forget the mix of hope and 28 desperation, arriving in a new city, with a new husband, looking for a new job, with 29 pretty much nothing but the clothes on our backs and exactly fifty cents in our pockets.

30 These are memories from a long time ago. But members, today -- in 2015 -- too many 31 of us are still over the cliff. And far too many are peering over the edge.

32 Our state’s unemployment rate is 4.1 percent, and we’re one of the top states for job 33 creation and entrepreneurial activity. These are statistics we can be proud of.

34 But our work is not over. The stats offer no solace to the people who make up that 4.1 35 percent, nor to the larger number of hard-working Coloradans who are stuck in part-36 time jobs, or jobs that do not pay livable wages to support their families.

37 In many communities in this state, the jobless rate is still in the double digits.

38 Far too many families are still over the cliff.

39 There is a ladder that reaches the top of the cliff, but for too many Coloradans, the 40 American Dream is still a rung or two away.

41 No one else can climb the ladder for them.

42 But I firmly believe our duty as legislators is to hold that ladder steady.

43 As speaker I will do everything in my power to advance policies that will secure and 44 strengthen “the people of Colorado,” tomorrow and for generations to come.

45 Members, I am asking you today to support legislation that will help make sure our 46 economic recovery is felt by all Coloradans, in all four corners of our magnificent 47 state.

48 That means investing in job training and workforce development to put qualified 49 Coloradans into the high-skill jobs that our state’s economy is now producing.

50 Our dedication to Colorado’s middle class also means supporting the biggest and best 51 economic development program of all -- providing our students with an excellent 52 public education and an affordable college education.

53 We were led in the Pledge of Allegiance today by the student council of Heatherwood 54 Elementary School, not far from my home outside Boulder. And students from the 55 University of Colorado sang a beautiful rendition of our national anthem. For these 56 and all Colorado students, I am asking you to increase our investment in the most 1 indispensable ingredient of our state's future -- the next generation of Coloradans.

2 A middle-class-first strategy also means standing up for small businesses, because they 3 will create most of the new jobs.
4 Robert and I have owned a paint store and an oilfield services company, and I know 5 the burdens facing small business. I'm asking you in this session to support legislation 6 that will help Colorado's small businesses and entrepreneurs.
7 To bring more women and children into the middle class, we must also be committed 8 to ensuring that women earn equal pay for equal work.
9 As the second woman speaker in state history, and the first from my party, I am asking 10 you to support policies that will reach out to hundreds of thousands of low-wage 11 Colorado workers, most of them women, offering them a path toward freedom from 12 endless debt and the ability to save for a rainy day, for retirement and for their 13 children's future.
14 Our investment in the people also requires protecting our clean air and clean water and 15 our unspoiled open spaces.
16 The health of our people and our economy depends on a healthy environment. I ask 17 us all to keep working together to preserve our world-renowned Colorado quality of 18 life -- by continuing our commitment to renewable energy and by giving special 19 consideration to the upcoming recommendations of the governor's bipartisan oil and 20 gas task force.
21 We also support our quality of life when we support the roads and mass transit 22 systems that make our commutes more commutable. We need to find ways, within our 23 budget, to build an infrastructure that supports sustainable growth, a vibrant tourism 24 industry and the jobs of the future.
25 We must also address the concerns sparked by recent confrontations between the 26 police and residents -- both locally and nationally. During this session, members of 27 this body will be working toward responsible ways to rebuild trust between law 28 enforcement and the communities they serve. This is an issue of public safety, 29 fairness, civil rights and the very values that make us Coloradans, that make us 30 Americans.
31 It is also time to take a comprehensive look at our options to overcome one of the 32 biggest barriers to expanding the middle class -- Colorado's shortage of good, 33 affordable housing. We have a number of members working on this issue. And my 34 door is always open to those who have solutions to Colorado's housing crunch that are 35 data-driven and protect consumers' rights.
36 Members, in everything we do in the Seventieth General Assembly, our bottom line 37 must be fighting for the middle class and all those who work hard to join it.
38 If our policymaking addresses the concerns and aspirations of regular Coloradans 39
40       • If we test every bill and every vote by asking, "will this make life better for 41       the greatest possible number of our fellow Coloradans?" -- 42
43       • If we make it our goal to raise up the broad middle -- 44 then we as legislators are honoring our obligation to all the people of Colorado.
45 Because when the middle class grows and thrives, all of Colorado benefits.
46 Our state is not composed of abstract numbers or purely economic interests, but of real 47 people, and of their hopes and fears and dreams. Our job, members, is to build a 48 better Colorado -- a Colorado where we and our children can follow our dreams -- even 49 if we start with pretty much the clothes on our backs and fifty cents in our pockets.
50 I'm eager to get started. I know you are too. Thank you.

1 Minority Leader DelGrosso addressed the members of the House of 2 Representatives:

3
4 Madam Speaker, Madam Majority Leader, esteemed colleagues and honored guests, 5 welcome to the First Regular Session of the 70th General Assembly.

6 I would like to start by thanking Former Speakers Frank McNulty and Mark 7 Ferrandino, Chief Clerk Marilyn Eddins and everyone else who has had a role in the 8 chamber renovations. The House Chamber looks beautiful and I know this project has 9 required a tremendous amount of time. Thank you.

10 I would like to congratulate our newest House members, this may take a while, Jeni 11 Arndt, Jon Becker, J.Paul Brown, Terri Carver, Jessie Danielson, Daneya Esgar, Alec 12 Garnett, Jon Keyser, Gordon Klingenschmitt, Susan Lontine, Paul Lundeen, Patrick 13 Neville, Kim Ransom, Kit Roupe, Jack Tate, Dan Thurlow, Kevin Van Winkle, Yeulin 14 Willett, JoAnn Windholz and Faith Winter. I look forward to working with each of 15 you and I sure hope you know what you got yourself into. I also look forward to 16 continuing to work with all of our returning members.

17 I am sure everyone will agree the elections required a significant commitment and I 18 would like to especially thank my family, my wife Amber who has supported me and 19 my kids Andara, Bransen, Breeley and Zackary, and lastly, my parents George and 20 Kathi. I would not be able to do this job without your tireless support and 21 encouragement.

22 I know how important family support is, and I would like to say a special thank you 23 to all of the spouses and family members who have to endure our busy schedules. It 24 is truly your sacrifice that makes it possible for us to do what we do.

25 I see a lot of new faces that I know will bring new ideas and new energy to the 26 Colorado legislature. We have a tremendous opportunity in front of us, one that allows 27 us to serve our communities, help craft policies to solve key issues in our state and 28 help continue to make Colorado such a wonderful place to call home. Our constituents 29 have entrusted us with the position to serve a role that very few Coloradans get to 30 experience. From what I have experienced in six years, it seems members under the 31 gold dome are rarely short of words, but as I said last year, the true privilege of being 32 a representative is not the ability to speak from this podium, but to listen to all citizens 33 of this state.

34 We hear how well Denver and the Front Range are doing, and it's encouraging to see 35 economic growth in these areas. But while our population may be concentrated along 36 the Front Range, our identity is more than a sprawling urban corridor. Colorado's 37 identity is also our mountains and forests, it's our trails, lakes, our crops and livestock, 38 our ski slopes and everything that extends beyond the Denver/Boulder corridor.

39 While we love Colorado for these reasons we must keep in mind that our rural 40 communities are vital to maintaining this identity. Tourism was strong this year, but 41 members, rural Colorado's needs extend beyond tourism, and require the elected 42 officials in this building to look beyond the Front Range. How communities educate 43 their children in Holyoke may be different than here in Denver, what helps businesses 44 in urban areas might adversely affect businesses in rural areas. Members, if you value 45 all of Colorado, you must recognize Denver-centric solutions will not fit every part of 46 our state.

47 When you listen to rural Coloradans' ongoing concerns about stagnant economies, 48 lack of infrastructure and excessive regulations it is clear to me this body is not doing 49 enough for our rural communities. You can see prosperity in parts of Colorado, but 50 this prosperity is not uniform across the state.

51 Unemployment is much higher in areas like Delta County, where 150 more mining 52 jobs have been recently lost. I know sitting here in Denver, 150 jobs may not seem like 53 much, but in a town like Paonia, it is devastating to their economy. Pueblo's 54 unemployment is higher than the national average, and nearly three points higher than 55 here in Denver. Colleagues, we have 11 counties in Colorado with unemployment 56 rates that are almost double or more than the state's average. Data may show that

1 unemployment has dropped in these areas, but the reality is people in these small 2 towns simply leave if they cannot find work. I highlight these statistics so you will 3 keep them in mind when our caucus, as we have continuously done, talks about how 4 something may harm rural Colorado and hopefully it won't fall on deaf ears. I do not 5 mean to detract from the Front Range's progress, but this legislature represents all of 6 Colorado, and we must focus on making all of Colorado prosperous.

7 Transportation is vital for business and commerce to flow through Colorado, and to 8 help keep up with current and projected growth. Many of our roads and bridges are in 9 poor condition and this is an issue that is shared by both urban and rural areas. In 10 addition to adding costly wear to vehicles, it's slowing business growth. Yet since 11 2009, more than a billion dollars has been diverted away from transportation. This 12 year, we will again try to bolster transportation by re-establishing the practice of using 13 our general fund dollars to rebuild our neglected roads and bridges. It's time we start 14 making transportation funding a priority.

15 As a small business owner, I can tell you navigating the onslaught of regulations 16 passed in the past few years is difficult and time consuming. Small business is the 17 economic driver in Colorado, yet instead of getting out of their way, this legislative 18 body has insisted on piling on more regulations. This year we can extend a hand to 19 small businesses and finally pass Assistant Minority Leader Szabo's regulatory reform 20 act of 2015, 2014, 2013, 2012. That's right, I said four years in a row. This is the 4th 21 attempt at trying to pass a simple bill that says if a business is found to be in violation 22 of a new regulation that the department is directed to issue a warning instead of a fine 23 on the first offense. Members, this is good common sense legislation that will allow 24 government to work with small business rather than against it, there is no rational 25 reason for it to not pass.

26 The recession forced our education system to endure significant budget cuts, but last 27 session, Republicans proved to Coloradans that we could increase funding for 28 education without a tax increase. Last year we successfully prioritized more funding 29 for our schools, and this year Republicans will again call for more on-going funding 30 to reduce the negative factor instead of one-time dollars.

31 Republicans will continue to defend our Taxpayers Bill of Rights. There are people 32 in this room that may disagree with me about TABOR, but we only need to look back 33 one year to validate its importance. If not for TABOR, the legislature would have 34 imposed nearly a billion-dollar tax increase on Coloradans – the largest tax increase 35 in state history. Fortunately TABOR required the tax increase be put to a vote of the 36 people, and the voters overwhelmingly defeated it. This session we will no doubt 37 discuss how to refund excess taxes back to voters or if we should at all. I have heard 38 from some of my friends across the aisle that these refunds are silly or ridiculous and 39 these refunds may only be large enough to buy a tank of gas (Well given gas prices, 40 it may buy two). Members, for the many families living paycheck to paycheck, a tank 41 of gas or two matters, more groceries matter, more money to buy their kids school 42 supplies matters. Republicans believe that the people can spend their money better 43 than Government can. TABOR refunds are owed to our taxpayers and we will fight 44 to have that money returned to them.

45 Finally, what would a legislative session be without discussing natural resources? Our 46 neighboring states have embraced their natural resources and their economies are 47 reaping the benefits. Wyoming for instance, currently enjoys nearly a billion-dollar 48 reserve. Members it is time this chamber acknowledges all of Colorado's natural 49 resources and views our oil and gas and coal reserves as assets, not burdens. It's time 50 this chamber accepts that we can responsibly extract these resources while keeping 51 every bit of Colorado's identity intact. It's time this chamber recognizes oil, natural 52 gas and coal not only provide clean, affordable and reliable power, but are economic 53 drivers in many communities in Colorado, and it's time this chamber understands that 54 we can develop renewable energy and use our current natural resources at the same 55 time. Republicans support renewable energy, but we do not support stifling our 56 economy and killing jobs to pursue an unrealistic agenda.

1 Our natural resources are a means to greater prosperity for all of Colorado. New 2 technology is allowing drilling companies to drill more wells from a single well head, 3 and reclaim the ground to remove all evidence of drilling from the land. The oil, gas 4 and coal industries provide thousands of good paying jobs and give communities the 5 chance to grow and develop. Many parts of rural Colorado heavily rely on the oil and 6 gas industry to support their economy and provide critical jobs. In parts of Western 7 Colorado, coal mines can support entire communities.
8 These natural resources are valuable to our state and to the mineral right owners.
9 While we may debate the proper amount of state and local control over our natural 10 resource development, the property owners' rights must be protected. This session, 11 Representative Perry Buck will be introducing a bill that requires a mineral right 12 owner be compensated if a governmental entity limits their property rights.
13 Colleagues, never should someone have their property taken by the government and 14 not be justly compensated.
15 Our natural resource debate should not be framed around oil or wind, natural gas or 16 solar, coal or hydro, rather this should be a discourse on how we best utilize all types 17 of energy. The reality is our natural resources are important and will continue to be 18 well into our future, and I hope Democrats will join Republicans in supporting a 19 robust, responsible energy platform that includes all these valuable assets and help 20 keeps our rural economy on track.
21 Republicans have a vision for a prosperous Colorado, and we hope that this vision can 22 be shared by all members in this chamber, by our fellow Senators and by the 23 Governor. For many of us that come from rural communities, we understand 24 Colorado's identity, we are here to help preserve and protect it. Colorado's natural 25 beauty is one of the things we value most about living here, and I can tell you none of 26 us would jeopardize it. To my friends across the aisle, if you value the rural identity 27 as much as we do, share our vision and make Colorado's rural economy as much a 28 priority as our Front Range. I am willing to work with each member in this chamber, 29 and hope this feeling can be reciprocated by each one of you. This session let's work 30 together and make all Colorado prosperous.
31 Thank you and God bless all of Colorado.
