Summary of Legislation

This bill requires Colorado employers to attest to the following:

- the legal status of employees have been checked;
- copies of documents required by the I-9 employment eligibility verification form are being retained;
- no employee identification documents have been altered or falsified; and
- the employer has not knowingly hired an unauthorized alien.

The Division of Labor (DOL) within the Department of Labor and Employment is authorized to conduct random audits on employers to verify compliance. Additionally, documentation may be requested upon receipt of a credible complaint. Fines are established for failure to submit information or for submission of false information.

State Revenues

Fines for failure to submit documentation or for falsifying documentation are up to $1,000 for the first offense and up to $5,000 for subsequent offenses. Fine revenue is deposited into the Employment Support Cash Fund. Because fine amounts are discretionary, the impact to state revenue cannot be determined. However, a minimal amount of fine revenue (< $5,000 per year) is assumed under the bill.

State Expenditures

This bill is expected to create state expenditures of $113,670 and 2.0 FTE in FY 2006-07 and $202,864 and 4.0 FTE in FY 2007-08 from the Employment Support Cash Fund. All costs occur within the DOL and are associated with the following:

- legal consultation to assist in the promulgation of new rules and to provide program legal support (50 hours in the first year only at $64.45 per hour - transferred to the Department of Law);
- compliance officers to investigate an estimated 2,800 complaints annually; and
- auditors to perform random audits on 1% of employers annually.

Cost components under this bill are shown in Table 1:

Table 1 - Total Costs
Cost Components	FY 2006-07	FY 2007-08
Personal Services	$98,432	$196,864
FTE	2.0	4.0

Legal Services (Department of Law)	3,223	0

With the bill's provisions effective January 1, 2007, the first year of costs are one-half of the total annual costs.

State Appropriations

This fiscal note implies an appropriation of $113,670 and 2.0 FTE will be required from the Employment Support Cash Fund to the Department of Labor and Employment in FY 2006-07. Included in this amount is a cash funds exempt transfer to the Department of Law of $3,227.
