Morning Prayer by the Senate Chaplain, Reverend Glen Hamlyn, reprinted below:

Gracious God, for all your goodness, our thanks we give.
From our beginning breath, you have blessed and helped us live.
When we meditate upon the multitude of mercies we have received.
How can we not be grateful and pleased.
Our families have nurtured and loved us through the years.
We praise you for those we cherish, with our share of joys and tears.
Faithful friends, new and old,
Are among the greatest treasure we hold.
When we are saddened by having to part,
We still will keep each one close to heart.
May we remember well all the good folks,
Who quietly labored long and hard and laughed kindly at all our jokes.
We pray that our efforts together for the common good,
With time will prove that for the truth we stood.
O Lord, wherever we go, whomever we are, whatever we say, may freedom forever stay.
Amen.
